REPORT

Poona Institute of Management Sciences and Entrepreneurship signed MoU with Hindustan Times on 24th January, 2023. Hindustan Times is the flagship newspaper of HT Media Ltd, the second most widely read English newspaper in India after The Times of India, acclaimed for its editorial quality, innovation and journalism ethics. Hindustan Times provides daily dose of national news, global news, information, entertainment and detailed coverage of significant events.

The institute has collaborated with Hindustan Times for subscription of Mint, a master product of HT Media Ltd which is specially designed and crafted for leaders of the new order. The collaboration with Hindustan Times also includes additional benefits for students being selected as interns, guest lectures, media coverage for Institute's event and a monthly online quiz for the students. The MoU was signed by our beloved Director, Dr. Porinita Banerjee, Dr. Sheena Abraham, Mr. Pranay Khaparde, Senior Manager, Hindustan Times, Pune and Mr. Swapnil Chavare, Deputy Manager, Hindustan Times, Pune.

During his interaction with the students, Mr. Pranay Khaparde highlighted the importance of Personal Branding for Entrepreneurs as a crucial part of today's business world. He also elaborated the various ways and means of developing, maintaining and promoting one's personal brand. Furthermore, he emphasized the significance of reading newspaper on a regular basis as it will assist the students in honing their communication skills thereby becoming successful entrepreneur in their business journey

Report of the Event

This session was designed to enhance the soft skills and employability skills of our MBA students at AKI's Poona Institute of Management Sciences & Entrepreneurship to help them to succeed in the professional world. During the session, a broad range of topics were addressed, including interpersonal communication, leadership, teamwork, adaptability, and personal branding. Mr. Anthony began the session by emphasizing the importance of soft skills and employability skills in today's competitive employment environment. The speaker discussed the significance of effective communication and its impact on professional relationships and career growth. He highlighted different communication styles and techniques, including active listening, non-verbal cues, and the art of delivering persuasive presentations. The session received overwhelmingly positive feedback from the MBA students. They appreciated Mr. Anthony's expertise, engaging delivery style, and the practicality of the information shared. The participants particularly found the interactive activities and case studies beneficial in understanding and applying the concepts discussed.

Report

On 20th March 2021, AKI's Poona institute of management sciences & entrepreneurship organized a session on Negotiation and Conflict Resolution for MBA students. The aim of the session was to equip the students with essential skills and knowledge to effectively manage conflicts and negotiate successfully in various business contexts. The speaker for the session was Mr. Mayur Mehta, an expert in the field with extensive experience in negotiation and conflict resolution. The session provided the MBA students with valuable insights and takeaways, including:

- Understanding the importance of negotiation skills in business settings.
- Knowledge of effective negotiation strategies and techniques.
- Recognizing different types and sources of conflicts.
- Developing skills to manage conflicts and reach win-win solutions.
- Familiarity with various conflict resolution approaches.
- Practical application of negotiation skills through role-plays and group activities.

The Negotiation and Conflict Resolution session conducted by Mr. Mayur Mehta proved to be highly informative and engaging. The students had the opportunity to learn from an experienced professional and gained practical knowledge that can be applied in their future careers. The session successfully fulfilled its objectives of imparting negotiation and conflict resolution skills to the MBA students, equipping them with essential tools for success in the business world related to problem-solving and teamwork. The interactive exercises and group discussions provided the participants with practical experience in applying these skills. Overall, the session proved to be valuable for the MBA students in enhancing their problem-solving abilities and understanding the significance of teamwork in group discussions.

Director

REPORT

On Friday, September 6, 2018, the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) organized a significant session for MBA, MBA-IT, and MBA-HRD students focused on "Problem Solving and Teamwork in Group Discussion." The session, conducted by esteemed faculty members Dr. Payal Samdariya and Mr. Lionel John Dmello, aimed to enhance the students' problem-solving skills and teamwork capabilities through the context of group discussions.

The session commenced at 11:00 am and attracted a significant turnout of eager students. Dr. Payal Samdariya, an Associate Professor known for her expertise in communication and group dynamics, initiated the session by emphasizing the importance of effective problem-solving and teamwork in the professional arena.

Mr. Lionell John Dmello, an Assistant Professor with a specialization in collaborative learning strategies, provided valuable insights into the dynamics of successful group discussions. The facilitators guided students on key aspects, including active listening, effective communication, and the role of leadership in group settings.

The session was highly interactive, with practical exercises and simulated group discussions allowing students to apply the concepts in a real-world context. Participants were encouraged to share their experiences and challenges, fostering a collaborative learning environment.

Dr. Samdariya and Mr. Dmello also provided constructive feedback to students, helping them understand their strengths and areas for improvement in problem-solving and teamwork. The session concluded with a Q&A segment, allowing students to seek clarification and engage in further discussion.

Overall, the "Problem Solving and Teamwork in Group Discussion" session organized by IQAC proved to be a valuable learning experience, equipping MBA, MBA-IT, and MBA-HRD students with essential skills for success in both academic and professional spheres. The event reinforced the institution's commitment to holistic education and skill development.

REPORT

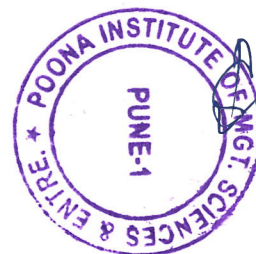

On Saturday, July 9, 2018, students from the MBA, MBA-IT, and MBA-HRD programs attended a session on "Emotional Intelligence in Business." The session, led by Ms. Veenu Parek from the Bani Foundation, commenced at 10:30 am and aimed to enlighten students on the crucial role of emotional intelligence in the corporate world.

Ms. Parek, an expert in emotional intelligence and leadership development, provided a comprehensive overview of the concept and its relevance in the business context. The session delved into understanding and managing emotions effectively, both at an individual and interpersonal level.

Throughout the presentation, practical examples and case studies were used to illustrate how emotional intelligence contributes to better decision-making, effective communication, and successful leadership. Ms. Parek also emphasized the impact of emotional intelligence on team dynamics and workplace relationships.

The interactive nature of the session allowed students to actively engage in discussions, share their experiences, and seek guidance on enhancing their own emotional intelligence. Ms. Parek's dynamic presentation style and ability to relate the concepts to real-world scenarios contributed to a positive and enriching learning experience.

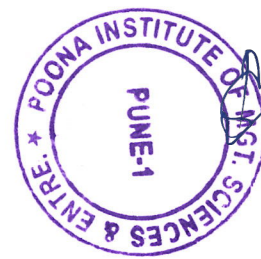

The event concluded with a Q&A segment, enabling students to seek further clarification and advice on applying emotional intelligence principles in their academic and professional journeys. Overall, the "Emotional Intelligence in Business" session proved to be a valuable addition to the students' skill development, aligning with the institution's commitment to holistic education for future success in the business world.

Reports

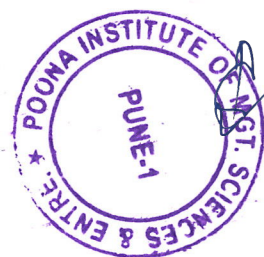

On Tuesday, September 13, 2018, the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) organized a session on "Business Etiquette & Grooming for Management Students" for MBA, MBA-IT, and MBA-HRD students. The session, led by Mr. Abhay Chavan, emphasized the importance of professional etiquette and grooming in the corporate world.

Starting at 11:00 am, Mr. Chavan, an expert in corporate etiquette and professional development, provided valuable insights into the significance of cultivating a polished and professional image. The session covered various aspects of business etiquette, including communication skills, attire, punctuality, and interpersonal conduct.

A notable highlight was the instruction for students to attend the session in uniform, underscoring the practical application of the concepts discussed. This added a hands-on dimension to the learning experience, allowing students to immediately apply the principles of business etiquette.

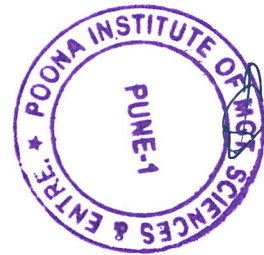

Mr. Chavan engaged the students through interactive discussions, role-playing scenarios, and practical tips for navigating professional settings. The session aimed to equip students with the knowledge and skills necessary to make a positive impression in the corporate world and enhance their career prospects.

The event concluded with a Q&A session, providing students with the opportunity to seek clarification and personalized advice on specific aspects of business etiquette and grooming. Overall, the session contributed to the holistic development of students, aligning with the institution's commitment to preparing future leaders with a well-rounded skill set.

REPORT

On Friday, October 25, 2019, students from the MBA, MBA-IT, and MBA-HRD programs participated in a valuable session on "Preparing for Behavioral Interview Techniques." The session, conducted by Mr. Devendra Sharma, commenced at 10:30 am with the aim of equipping students with essential skills for navigating and excelling in behavioural interviews.

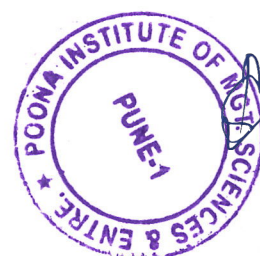

Mr. Sharma, an experienced professional in talent acquisition and human resources, provided a comprehensive overview of behavioural interview techniques commonly employed by recruiters. The session began with an explanation of the significance of behavioural interviews in assessing a candidate's suitability for a role based on past behavior and experiences.

Throughout the session, practical insights and examples were shared to help students understand how to approach and respond to behavioral questions effectively. Mr. Sharma covered key aspects such as identifying relevant experiences, crafting impactful stories, and highlighting skills and competencies sought by employers.

The event concluded with a Q&A segment, providing students with the opportunity to address individual concerns and gain further insights into mastering behavioral interview techniques. Overall, the session proved to be instrumental in preparing students for the demands of the job market and aligns with the institution's commitment to providing holistic career development support.
